

STEVE DE LOLLIS DRUMS & PERCUSSION

Steve De Lollis began playing drums at the age of six. Growing up in Cincinnati, Ohio he played in concert, jazz, marching and rock bands in high school before moving to the Chicago area to earn a degree from Northwestern University and gig around town. He now resides in Los Angeles, and divides his time between live performances, studio recordings and teaching.

Credits include The Pretty Babies Torch Singers, Mama's Boys Blues Band, The Pocket Jazz Trio, and productions for the Zoo District Theatre. It's also a little known fact that Steve is a licensed pyrotechnician, having blown up, burned or otherwise destroyed countless objects for the silver screen.

